Data Submitted (UTC 11): 4/17/2021 2:28:55 PM
First name: sue
Last name: colucci
Organization:
Title:
Comments: Our environment is increasingly threatened. Increasing use of our wilderniess areas for grazing is ultimately destructive to the entire area. I remember visiting Big Bend National Park where I learned that this particular area had been used extensively for grazing in the early years of development but that all the vegetation that originally existed there had subsequently been destroyed and now it was basically desert and no longer usable for agriculture or any thing but tourism.