Comments: Animal agriculture is one of the most destructive industries on the planet. Not only does is cause suffering on an imaginable scale, it creates more greenhouse gases than all forms of transportation combined, is responsible for environmental degradation, habitat and species loss, ocean dead zones and acidification, wastes vast quantities of natural resources including fresh water and is linked to myriad human health issues including zoonotic disease, antibiotic resistance and chronic illness. It is time to follow the science and transition to plant-based systems. Please do not enable animal agriculture.
