Comments: Dear Members of the forest Service, I do not regularly comment about Public Lands but today I am compelled because of the real threat of Changing Climate to our United States. The use of the land and its water have become a huge priority to me and I hope to you. If we allow large tracts of Public Land to be grazed, the animals there will degrade the soil and water. We are running out of water for human consumption. Large grazing animals are producing methane and causing higher emissions in the atmosphere, which are changing the weather patterns. Please do not allow the grazing rights to continue...for the sake of our earth. Thank you, Anne Johnson
