

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 4/17/2021 5:31:35 PM

First name: Karen

Last name: Witty

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Chopping down the forest is not for the benefit of wildlife or the public. It is for the sole benefit of one rancher and they should not get that subsidy at the high cost of the environment and wildlife habitat. The land is supposed to be for many people to enjoy and one of the main things people want to enjoy is some wildlife.