

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 4/20/2021 4:14:17 PM

First name: Linda

Last name: Veum

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Respectfully, I believe that your goal of reducing the herd to only around 100 is not viable. These animals are a very important part of the American West and much more valuable than cattle grazing. The number of horses you plan to leave is too small for them to survive there and your calculations do not take in account all the land the horses use including reservation land. Please stop pleasing only special interests and do what is best for wildlife, wild places and Americans.