Comments: It starts with one.

Please do not kill any more wild horses on the land; let nature take it's course naturally. Wild horses are a part of history and should remain protected for future generations to treasure. They've been taking the blame for too long, even before 2008 and you know it. Research the livestock population instead (@HS)! Shame on you for knowing better and doing nothing. Remember it starts with one...

Ask yourself what are your true intentions? Praying for you to tap in to your heart & do the right thing. You can be the difference we humans need.
