Comments: This hurts my heart. I was so happy to live in a state that had humane control of the wild horses.

One of the highlights of all my visitors when we see them. I thought this state did not let the rich ranchers control them and actually realized that with proper management we could work together and allow these beautiful, wonderful, amazing creatures to continue to live and continue to live free and let us enjoy seeing them still on the wild instead of the money-making animals destroying the areas. I am just outraged and so so disappointed - this plan is ridiculous. Please reconsider and do not let the "money" destroy part of our history. I was so proud of the agency for how they were handling it in AZ, now I am just very very disappointed and sad.
