Comments: Greetings.

I am writing to implore you to leave these wild horses alone and in their natural territory. As a scientist I can verify that they auto regulate their populations themselves which is truly remarkable. If you have been misled by anyone concerning this, please do the research. They are NOT having population problems. PLEASE leave them alone! These horses do not need managed and certainly do not need government interference. Nature is providing for their self regulation. Please allow these horses to live in their territory.
