Comments: These beautiful animals are the last vestige of the old west and deserve all the protection people can give them. The senseless killings of this precious resource is disgusting, with no regard for life. The people killing them should be prosecuted to the highest level allowed by law.

I don't live in the wild horse area, but have seen them while driving through. It brought a tear to my eye to think that they should be anything but wild and left alone.

Thank you for your consideration.
