Comments: Hi I just wanted to let you know I support NO ACTION. One of the best things about Arizona is the fact they are known for being a horse loving state. (Not just the wilds). It's still a great reminder of the old west to me. Please prioritize the forests for nature as was intended and stop all the craziness that is driving people away. I would truly appreciate this preservation for many generations to come and believe they will to. Seeing nature at its natural state is one of the greatest educational tools we have! Also there are several states that have put in tunnels for the wildlife use and it is a wonderful idea to consider. Thank you for your time!
