Comments: I'd like to oppose the Kore Mining project. Visiting the mono valley and Hot Creek is one of my favorite parts of California. Being able to come spend time in this scenic part of the country, spend my days fishing and looking at unobstructed views will keep me coming back and spending money in the area for decades to come. Please don't ruin with mining, sometimes reserving beauty for people is the most important thing you can do. As we move towards innovation in so many ways let us not forget the simple pleasures of just being able to sit and take in a grand view that dwarfs us and reminds us that we are apart of a larger churning, and that sometimes all we must do is simply "be".
