Comments: Hot creek serves as an incredibly unique and prolific trout fishery in the area and any drilling process that would threaten the fishery would be a damn shame. This stream is so unique in the state and the western US in its quantity and size of fish! It's one of the few great year round fisheries! It's also located so reasonably close to Southern California major cities and other great areas for recreation. This creek is one of a kind and any activity that could negatively impact it would be terrible.
