Comments: PLEASE approve this project! I've long enjoyed these runs served by the Lumberjack lift, especially for teaching beginners, although we've always dreaded the lift ride on this outdated lift. Most of Copper's greens on the rest of the mountain have unavoidable sections that are a little on the steeper side, making it quite the leap from Kokomo to the rest of the mountain. Being able to more comfortably spend time here would be great for learners in that 'in between' space and serve to spread people across the mountain a little more. 100% in favor!
