

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 5/29/2021 1:40:56 AM

First name: Ryan

Last name: Piguet

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Hello

I am a hardcore off-road enthusiast. I have been all over the country on atvs and utvs. Your average width of your basic atv is over 50inches now a days. Average utv is 64 to 75 inches. You will continue to lose money if u only widened to 62 inches. You will not gain anything from 50 to 62 inches. I understand wayne national dont want jeeps and trucks on the trails. That is probably your reason for not 75inch width. But. Atvs are the thing of the past. Sxs/utvs are where its at now a days. And i know people all over the country would pay to ride wayne national forest if it was at a up to date width. So. In my opinion wayne national is losing alot of money at this narrow width. People will have no problem paying for a nice place to ride. Thanks