Comments: As someone who works in the power sports industry, I know how important it is to get people on the trails. Families bring in money for the locals communities. The shift towards bigger machines is obvious, but it does bring some challenges. A full size side by side head on into a motorcycle is a bad situation. More single track trails for 2 wheels only would be much safer for the biker, and thin out the crowd on the main trail. Plus, it would draw in more people, drawing in more money.
