Comments: I am completely against the idea of increasing the value and size of parcels of public land that are allowed to be sold and privatized. If the last two years have taught us anything it is that people need places to escape to and find solace and peace of mind. Public lands offer every one of every demographic a place to escape to during the weekends, vacation, pandemics and a place to go harvest wild meat when we've seen our food supply become vulnerable. Privatization only takes us one step closer to being like Britain, where only the rich can afford the places and own all the land. Keep public lands in public hands!!!
