Comments: In the section titled "Summary of Proposed Management Actions" of Red River Gorge Management Planning (document 115625_FSPLT3_5642873) it states "Designate Trails" "Maximum Number" "50 miles of trails". In Recreation Guide Daniel Boone National Forest (document fseprd559262) it states "Nearly 70 miles of hiking trails loop and interconnect throughout the gorge."

So, my questions: Does this mean there will only be a total of 50 miles of official trails? If so, does that mean you are going to eliminate not only the user trails but about 20 miles of currently official trails as well?
