Comments: Dear Supervisor Birkey and August Phase 1 Planning Team,

I dearly love the Wild and Scenic South Fork Trinity River and I value post-fire forests. The Smoky, Red Mountain, and Prospect Creek tributaries have already begun to recover from the August Complex fire. Natural regeneration is happening throughout this beautiful mosaic burn.

The thousands of acres of ground based post-fire logging, hundreds of acres of logging in Riparian Reserves, eight miles of "temporary" roads and opening two miles of decommissioned roads would harm water quality, soil, regeneration, wildlife, salmon, and other aquatic life. California salmon are already struggling mightily and are dwindling at an alarming rate. Fisheries that were rich only 7 years ago are now sadly sparse. Additionally the magnificent beauty in these watersheds would be greatly impaired by these invasive projects. The environmental assessment offers little to no real data to support the claims that this project would be insignificant. For decades scientific research explicitly shows that logging in fire-affected forests is ecologically the worst thing you can do for every aspect of the environment, and would likely increase future risk of fire in these watersheds.

Please protect and work towards the recovery of struggling salmon and wildlife populations, water quality, habitat connectivity and visual quality in the already impaired South Fork Trinity River. I urge you to forgo this massive logging project and focus on public safety. Focusing solely on imminent hazard trees (that are completely dead), and only around recreation sites and on major roads, not the entire 922 acres of roadside logging, as proposed in Alternative 2, is our best option for a healthy and safe watershed.

The wild and scenic parts of America are unique, precious, and unparalleled. They are inherent to the American spirit. Alternative 2 will help preserve and restore this incredible part of our country.

Sincerely,

Prianka Nagpal
