Comments: Just want to comment on your project!i have been a hunterof all species for for around 50 years,have been a grouse and small game hunter most of that time.i understand the importance of early succesional habitat for all species.trees left to get too big dont benefit most species of wildlife.dont get me wrong its not right to select or clearcut it all you have to leave some large timber, but to let it go too big is the problem on our forest service land trees become hollow etc.with no value!the cutting of the mon.forest would add alot of revenue for wva cut it wisely!!!
