Comments: The park service cannot put the genie back in the bottle. There is no way to close a trail short of having a ranger patrol it. Figure out which campsites you are gonna allow (about 750) and number them and reserve them. Put a couple of kiosks in at Slade and Campton. Your plan is unsustainable. People will just hike these trails and camp these spots without permission. Yes people are gonna permanently alter the landscape, but at this point there is nothing you can do to change that.

Thanks for your time
