Comments: Re: Red River Gorge Management Planning--Administrative Change. I have several concerns regarding the proposed administrative changes, thank you for reviewing them. (1) Another main objective of the management actions is preservation of a precious natural resource for future generations. Please let this be a main objective. (2) Whatever regulation are established, there must be supervision in the forest. Where are you folks, we never see you. Hire more help to do the job, you are needed. The current explosion in the # of visitors is only going to keep increasing. Must have boots on the ground. (3)As climbing activities are exploding, it seems that a climbing plan should be developed, and include what places are off limits for climbing. Climbing definitely has a place, but it is not everyplace. (4)Where are the maps showing all these structural changes--parking, campsites, bathrooms, etc. How can we comment on the invisible plans? (5)I do not support the establishment of permanent campsites in the Clifty Wilderness. Is this legal, I thought wilderness meant services or built environment, campsites would then change Clifty's designation wouldn't it. (6)How sloppy of the Forest Service making all these clerical errors, where were the proof readers. Hard to believe actually. Leave the scenic integrity objective for the RRG Geologic Area & the Red River alone, that is, as a "VERY HIGH" status. Do not weaken these standards, as the effect of this going forward could lead to harm to the RRG and the Red River.

Thank you for considering these comments. I am sorry to be so cynical, but have a hard time believing so many "errors" were made that need to be "corrected" now. And please be more transparent with the details.
