Comments: Please do not use logging or herbicides in the Chattahoochee National Forest (or any national lands). Same for prescribed fire unless there is no other alternative. Logging destroys forests we need to act as the planet's lungs, those companies can use renewable tactics on their own land. As we know from DDT and recent issues with products like Roundup, we frequently find things we think are safe to use, turn out later to have devastating environmental or human side effects. As to prescribed fire, I live in the Canton, Ga area for almost 40 years and in Woodstock and Marietta before that, in total for almost 57 years and have never heard of any major forest fire in Georgia in that time, so what is the real purpose of the prescribed fires and if something is necessary, is that the best way to go?
