Comments: I enjoy skiing. I love the forest and the opportunities within it. While I would like expanded skiing areas, I take exception to doing this on public lands. Lutsen is a private entity, making a profit and looking to take land from the overall forest. I do not like the precedent this sets. What business is next to attempt the same? Or, sue when they are denied?

I would rather see the land sold to Lutsen or better yet offset/replaced elsewhere. I do not believe it is right to concede public land to the private sector.
