Comments: My family has a long history of skiing at Lutsen and we hope to ski for many years in the future. This is the only place we ski. The problem we see currently is not the lack of runs, but inadequate, poorly placed and slow chair lifts that do not make utilization of runs and space optimal. I would be in favor of a modest expansion of new runs and chair lifts. The proposed large expansion is excessive. I have never seen a large enough number of skiers to justify this large expansion at this time.

There is too much ecological risk and damage to justify a need for this kind of expansion, and triggers public outrage in the community.
