Comments: Hello! What a disincentive to leave a comment....

Why would I want to leave a comment in a PUBLIC COMMENT READING ROOM with my name and contact information?

So as your comments section states above, "Interested members of the public should review the proposal's information to determine the applicable administrative review process and the eligibility requirements for that process???" Are you kidding me? There are eligibility requirements just to leave an informed, personal opinion about my ecological concerns?

Your department is making it waaay too difficult for the public to participate in what should be a streamlined process. For this reason, I neglect to exercise my right to contribute to what should be a simple, open process for me to influence the determinations of the Forest Service on issues which are important to me.

Simply too much bureacracy here. Just too much red tape!

Regretfully,

Karen Emanuel
