

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 11/12/2021 9:02:15 PM

First name: Margaret Guilfooy

Last name: Tyler

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Human "management" of forest and animal species is decimating natural landscapes and driving animal species to extinction. "Less is more" in this case. Dead or dying trees still provide a haven for insects, birds, squirrels and other wildlife. The burden is on us to accept the risk of exploring nature. Humans should have enough sense to avoid potentially dangerous aspects of nature rather than pillaging these areas for our convenience.