Comments: Wilderness is for wilderness experience. It is not a park, is not Disneyland and those visiting should have a right to experience wilderness unmanicured. Wilderness is not to be logged for timber resources, is not to be tamed. That is the law for wilderness! I have walked in Wilderness areas that post trails are not maintained and each person is responsible for themselves. Follow the laws and reason for wilderness areas and the FS will not have confusion about what saws to use (no chainsaws and noise) no machinery! We use wilderness for it's given reason for existence and demand it is kept sound for our wild rambling and training!
