Comments: Dead and dying trees should be left alone in Wilderness. They are invaluable resources for birds and other wildlife!

The Forest Service should use crosscut saws, not chainsaws, to clear trails of only the fallen trees that must be removed.

Wilderness visitors should be allowed to experience nature on its own terms, including any risks that entails. I accept the risks that come with hiking in my state parks, local trails, or wilderness areas. I choose to take those risks in order to experience nature in all its glory.

The Forest Service needs to exclude all Wilderness areas from this project, including any encroachment from activity on wilderness boundaries.
