Comments: I am not an ocean& beach person. I am a forest& mountain person, living on 21 acres of trees on a mountain. Heaven.' I love trees, and hate to see or hear about their destruction-and certainly not by chainsaws! Evil noisy things disrupting and ruining the peacefulness of the forest. I even like dead trees, as they provide food for woodpeckers, and homes for small wildlife.Only fallen trees blocking paths should be cut, using crosscut saws. If I trip on a root, that is my fault and not the tree's!The value of trees is almost beyond measure.They give us the very air we breathe, beauty to enjoy, leaves that dance in the breeze and speak to us with their rustling.Trees are homes for birds and other wildlife. Did you know research has shown their root systems communicate with other trees?!Please leave this irreplaceable forest & the area surrounding it, wild and natural. All living beings deserve trees and all they provide, practically, esthetically and immense peace and tranquillity.
