

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 11/13/2021 3:32:43 PM

First name: Steve

Last name: Rockhold

Organization:

Title:

Comments: There's no reason to chainsaw trees in Wilderness spaces. The noise disturbs wildlife. Manual crosscut saws will work fine if you're only using them to clear pre-existing trails.

Most people who venture into real Wilderness do so because they want to be in the true wild. There are plenty of park spaces for folks who want to be in nature that has been manicured for human usage and safety.