Comments: Fallen trees nourish the forest. It is Nature's Way. In order to cause the least disturbance to "Wilderness ", hand saws instead of chainsaws should be used to clear insurmountable pathways. It is also logical that logging or any other corporate profiteering on the borders of areas established as "Wilderness" would be counter productive to keeping nature natural which is the purpose of establishing "Wilderness Areas." Wilderness is our major defense against Climate Change. Damaging it any way destroys all species, including our own.
