Comments: I am against the removal of trees unless it can be demonstrated by those who understand that trees regulate moisture in the air, sun, atmosphere, rain, CO2, oxygen, insect infestation, ground temperature, survival of many species, including birds, reptiles, lions, bears, ground dwelling animals that count on their shelter. We require a massive tree population to sustain us. As I said, trees regulate our planet, they release substances into the air to encourage rain. Should you allow trees to be cut you will be cutting the lifespan of your family.
