Comments: I recognize that a few trees must be cut so that they won't fall on roads in current usage. These trees should be cut by hand, a cross-cut saw, wielded by a few folks who have entered by foot into off-road areas. Most other damaged trees and snags should be left to provide natural habitat and stave off erosion. I believe those trees which must be removed from the area should be taken to areas where beaver could use them to construct their lodges and dams. In no way is this an opportunity to supply wood to other operations.
