

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 11/14/2021 9:31:26 PM

First name: Hugh

Last name: Gurney

Organization:

Title:

Comments:

I am totally opposed to cutting both live and dead trees within designated wilderness unless a tree has fallen across a designated trail. In that case, the tree must be cut by a cross cut saw, not a power saw, and the remains left beside the trail. Fires and storms occur in nature and trees grow old and fall down. That is part of the wilderness experience you are charged with preserving.