Dear Mark,

As large land owners within the GYE which borders BLM we know the importance of habitat and migration corridors.

Over the last several years public pressure has increased significantly with even more use of motorized vehicles. Each summer we find new unauthorized trails which have been cut into the forest. The damage to the landscape and habitat is significant and the large herd animals have been consistently disturbed and at times harassed.

We request you do all possible to protect Shoshone National Forest. These gems are very rare and require our stewardship.

We owe this to the next generation of Americans.

Regards,

James Guyette
