Comments: Please reconsider your preferred alternative and choose Alternative D, which represents a more balanced option based on years of study and offers the most protection and potential expansion of our valuable wilderness lands, which people come from all over the world to enjoy, in the process stimulating our economy through hunting, fishing, hiking, horseback riding and camping. While logging is certainly a necessary part of land management, the main emphasis of your plan should be conservation of finite resources and more innovative management of beetle kill forests as opposed to a more devastating "cut and slash" method. Plan D also addresses the very critical management of unbridled ATV use on our public lands, which, if left unchanged could forever negatively affect untold acres of critical wildlife habitat.

Thank you for your consideration.
