Comments: Bear Creek Trail and Bear Creek

having recently hiked the trail again, the stunning wilderness and landscape as well as cultural Colorado mining aspects were brought home to me. Each season shows in spectacular ways. The trail is well maintained and requires hikers to be mindful of the environment and their safety. It enhances the attunement to nature and provides physical and mindfulness benefits. The trail allows access to further natural areas. The trail needs to be managed for numbers of hikers as well as protected from noise and degradation.
