Comments: I want to talk about the Forest Service protecting all the free-flowing rivers remaining in Colorado. Free-flowing waters is one reason so many vacationers and tourists come to Colorado. They kayak, fly-fish, and simply float and enjoy these waters. There is a so-called Colorado RIVER in Texas. That Colorado is no longer a river, but a very long string of lakes and dams abutting lakes and dams. That river is dead! We should not have anything like that in our beautiful state of Colorado! Thank you for your farsightedness and thoughtfulness,
Richard Steele resident of Ouray county
