Comments: Based on factual reports and presented evidence and lack of appropriate documentation of promises made to stakeholders,, the Forest Service at the developers expense should submit to an arbitrator to satisfy the requirements of protecting the forest and other forest users who do not have the funds to hire representatives to be heard and promises honored. A written contract will need to be signed by stakeholders specifically impacted by the expansion agreeing to satisfactory resolution of protecting all users of the Superior national forest.

Absent due process, this USDA hearing comment process appears to be a ram job in violation of basic communication processes and the highly defined Federal administrative act. Mean what you promise and promise keep what you mean. Not done here.
