Comments: I am a regular hiker, runner, and climber in the North Cascades, including extensive on-trail and off-trail travel near and on Glacier Peak.

I wholeheartedly support increased seismic monitoring in the region, and understand that the equipment is comparatively small, and will not have a significant environmental impact. It will, though, provide key data and the ability to potentially save lives in the event of an emergency.

I hope the equipment will be placed with minimum helicopter flights and start providing the information needed for appropriate data collection and emergency planning and response.
