Comments: I've seen the impact of these bike trials and the general behavior of the cyclists. The lack of concern for sustaining the reason we're here. When we enter an area which doesn't have the large tiered rock placement and the asphalt or whatever replacement for the actual earth it is in a most precious natural state. We don't need to invade the most precious and beautiful valley and pass. Bikers can go to the front range or South Canyon. Please leave the balance of this area alone for the sake of the animals and birds and the quiet we should treasure.
