Comments: As a landowner and water right holder adjacent to the Ashley National Forest I am concerned that the Ashley Karst National Recreation and Geologic Area (AKNRGA) and its offered protections for the karst system ends on the west at the Uintah-Duchesne county line.

With Federal and state studies indicating that the subsurface water flow travels NW to SE I feel it is logical to assume the risk area for Farm Creek may be outside the protected area in the revised forest plan. There are also known karsts in Pole Creek.

I propose extending the karst protection in the forest plan further west to protect these vulnerable areas.
