Comments: I am somewhat conflicted. If you build it they will come. And we don't need more people. But the truth is they are already here. And they will keep coming. Not because of the trail, either way, but because it is beautiful here and we are a welcoming people. I do not think making a paved bike trail will change the nature of the area because it has already changed and there is nothing we can do to stop it.

I do not think that wild life will be any more impacted by the trail than the constant influx of people and homes that are built on every piece of free space left. At least bikers rest for the night. Unlike home owners and their pets.

I would really like to get bikers off the very narrow and windy road. For their piece of mind and mine, I would like the trail to be built.
