Comments: While I am a Hawaii resident I have been visiting Aspen since the late 60's and my parents purchased a condo there in '88. I've seen the evolution of mountain biking in the area over the years since then. While many trails have been built there can never be too many! This represents yet another opportunity to add to the roster! I would highly recommend the observation of a maximum 7% climbing grade. Not many climbing trails in the Roaring Fork valley have a consistent maximum 7% grade and for us coming from sea level, it makes it much harder to ride them! Thanks for your consideration!
