Comments: I'm writing you because I have grave concerns of the proposed Grasshopper logging sale. I know this area well. I mushroom and deer hunt this exact area for many years and very little of it seems to be a major concern for fire danger. There is some spots that are overgrown with Grand Fir (which is a fire risk) but much of the area should be withstand a normal forest fire. Plus, there is old growth trees in this proposed logging. We have so little of these trees left and should not be included in this logging. Also, because this area is higher elevation, the trees grow much lower, so to log this it will take maybe generations for people to experience old growth in this area. PLEASE reconsider any logging this beautiful area of Mt Hood. At the least, selective logging of certain areas would be great. Thanks for taking the time to read my comments.
