Comments: I am against the logging of spruce trees in the black Hills. The idea that they pose a threat for fire is ridiculous as they typically grow in the wettest parts of the forests. The spruce trees are a small but beautiful part of the Black hills that many tourists and locals enjoy. This seems like an idea made up by the logging industry to support their cause and not in the best interest of the BDNF. Please reconsider this proposal and don't cut them.
Thanks
