Comments: Dear Forest Service, I'm a mountain biker, trail runner, naturalist and hiker, so trails are a happy place for me immerse myself into the natural world. With that said, trails that bisect sensitive elements of our montane and sub alpine ecosystems, should not be considered and only new trails, that are not redundant, that will not negatively impact flora and fauna, particularly if threatened, should be constructed. Please do consider lessor non impactive new trails.

Thank you,
Jeffery Delaney
