Now for my comment:

Are you friggen stupid idiots? (rhetorical question, of course you are) You want to cut all those trees for totally worthless reasons, GREED being on the top of the list. You just cant resist to kill everything you can, even with top scientist trying to tell you to stop destroying the planet you just can't refuse the buck. When the hell will you people learn a lesson and stop destroying nature? Man you are some dumb ass humans. You can explain to you kids why so many animals have been wiped off the planet and tell them it was you that did it! Smarten up jackass and start protecting the earth instead of killing it!

This is me being nice, I can translate the above into what I would really like to say to you. Just once, do the right thing!
