Comments: The beauty of lake Tarleton will be forever spoiled if the current lumbering plan is allowed to proceed.

I have been enjoying the lake views and the majestic view of Mt. Moosilauke for over 20 years. To have this PRISTINE beauty replaced with scarred land by harvesting the timber near and around the lake would be a terrible error by the Forest service.

Tree harvesting is a preventive measure to control wildfire and unhealthy growth.

There are thousands of acres in the park, that no one could see except if flying over.

Harvest those acres, Not the beauty that surrounds Lake Tarleton.
