Comments: To whom it may concern,

Taos ski valley should in no way be a topic given today's overall environmental threats and ever changing climate. With so many concerns for Housing, Clean water and access to healthy food or even secure community environments, the use of public dollars for the ski project should be tabled until governing agencies can meet the basic human needs of the whole county and all decisions they make should reflect this sentiment. Personally I feel that the people involved with this project should have to take an aptitude and competency test for overall intellect and moral integrity. People should always come first and our investments as a community would benefit from this notion. Growth in the tax base comes from stability and access to resources allowing them to exceed meeting their needs. All focus should be redirected to resolving the pressing issues of Taos county first and then the ski valley.

Sincerely,

Brandon Bussard
